Name: _____

Microevolution: change within a species that occurs over time in a population

Macroevolution: major evolutionary changes over long periods of time; origin of new species

Generate questions that you hope to answer in this unit – based on the images below:

How does antibiotic resistance occur?

